After a review of [REDACTED] current educational and evaluation information, it has been determined that additional assessments are required as part of a requested reevaluation or mandated three-year-evaluation. The assessment process may include a psycho-educational evaluation, a classroom observation, and other appropriate assessments or evaluations as necessary to determine your child's educational needs.

The nature and purpose of each of these assessments is to provide important information about whether or not your child continues to have an educational disability and the continued need for special education and related services. If your child continues to require special education services, these assessments will provide important information regarding your child's present levels of performance, and whether modification to your child's Individualized Education Program (IEP) are necessary.
